Bruſſels March 18.

M. Geldermalſen coming hither the 12th Inſtant at Night, had a Conference the next Day with Count Koningſeck and immediately after diſpatched a Courier to the States General, for their Orders to concert with that Miniſter the quartering and ſubſiſting of the Imperial Troops which are coming into theſe Provinces: Laſt Night an Expreſs from the Hague brought a Reſolution of their High Mightineſſes to M. Geldermalſen and Vandenberg, relating to the Diſpoſition of the ſaid Troops into divers Places of Brabant and Flanders; upon which thoſe Miniſters had a Conference with Count Koningſeck, and ſent the Courier back to the Hague with an Account thereof. The Count has ſent Order to the Imperialiſts, not to advance beyond Louvain till they receive further Directions from him. This Evening an Expreſs arrived here, with Letters from Vienna of the 10th of this Month, by which we learn that Mr. Cadogan having received the Emperor's Anſwer, and finiſhed his Negotiation at that Court, intended to ſet out towards Holland the 14th.

London, March 9. This Day the Heers Van Duvervoirde and Van Borſele, Ambaſſadors extraordinary from their High and Mightineſſes the States General of the United Provinces, made their Publick Entry. They were received at Greenwich by the Earl of Tankerville, and Sir Clement Cottrel Maſter of the Ceremonies, accompanied by Six Gentlemen of his Majeſty's Privy Chamber. From thence they were brought by Water, together with all their Train in his Majeſty's Barges to the Tower: At their landing they were received by Robert D'Oyly, Eſq; Depury to the Lieutenant of the Tower, in the Abſence of the Earl of Northampton Conſtable of the ſaid Tower, and the Guard being drawn out upon the Wharf ſaluted their Excellencies as they paſſed by. The Royal Standard was diſplay'd upon this Occaſion. Their Excellencies diſpens'd with the firing of the Guns, leaſt much Miſchief might have enſued to the Cuſtom-houſe and many other Houſes near adjoining, extreamly ſhatter'd by the late dreadful Fire. From thence they proceeded to Somerſet Houſe in the following Manner. The Earl of Tankerville's Coach, thirty two of the Ambaſſadors Footmen walking two and two, eight Pages and the Gentleman of the Horſe mounted on Horſe-back; then came the King's Coach of State, in which were the Ambaſſadors, the Earl of Tankerville and the Maſter of the Ceremonies; this was followed by another of the King's Coaches, as was that by one of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, in theſe came the Six Gentlemen of the Privy Chamber; afterwards came five of their Excellencies Coaches drawn by eight Horſes each, which were follow'd by a numerous Train of Coaches of the Nobility and Gentry, with ſix Horſes each. When they arriv'd at Somerſet Houſe, the Place appointed by his Majeſty for their Entertainment, the Earl of Tankerville put them into Poſſeſſion of the Houſe, and took his Leave; ſoon after came the Lord Harborough with his Majeſty's Compliment of Welcome to the Ambaſſadors; as did the Lord Finch Gentleman of the Bedchamber to his Royal Highneſs, in waiting; and Mr. Pulteney Vice-Chamberlain to her Royal Highneſs; both ſent by their Royal Highneſſes the Prince and Princeſs of Wales upon the ſame Occaſion.

Horſe-Guards, March 11. 1714-15.
